4. Customers with characteristics of vulnerability

The Product is designed for customers undertaking a project to build a new main residence in England & Wales, which is likely to include some customers with characteristics of vulnerability or who will experience vulnerability over time.

We take the following actions to ensure vulnerable customers continue to receive good outcomes:

- The needs and objectives of customers within our target market are considered in detail when lending products are being designed, and products are tested to ensure they are designed so as to deliver good outcomes, including for vulnerable customers.

- A dedicated Vulnerable Customer Policy is maintained.
- Staff receive training on how to identify and assist vulnerable customers appropriately.
- Operational procedures are adhered to and reviewed on a regular basis.

It is important that Self-Build customers have a sufficient level of understanding of the implications of undertaking a build project and the associated requirements, so as to reduce the risk of the project encountering difficulty during the build process (and therefore increasing the likelihood of customers developing characteristics of vulnerability).

Intermediaries should continue to comply with your obligations to ensure that you treat customers in vulnerable circumstances fairly.

Please contact us if you need any further information about how we support the needs of all our customers in relation to the Product.

5. Our assessment of value

We have developed a comprehensive and robust assessment process which evaluates several aspects of our business to determine the value of our mortgage product. This analysis is used to ascertain whether the Product delivers fair value for customers.

The outcomes of the assessment process are presented to the Assets & Liabilities Committee and Operations, Risk & Compliance Committee allowing for challenge and further investigation before we sign-off the outcomes and share the summary of our assessment with you.

Our fair value assessment has considered the following:

Benefits	Price	Costs	Limitations
The range of features that the Product provides, the quality of the Product, the level of customer service that is provided and any other features that the Product may offer.	The interest rates, fees and charges customers pay for the Product, comparable market rates, advice fees paid to intermediaries and non-financial costs associated with operating the Product.	The cost of funding the Product and any other reductions in costs to the customer made possible by economies of scale.	Any limitations on the scope and service we provide or the features of the Product.

Results of our assessment

Our assessment concluded that the Product continues to deliver fair value for customers in the target market for the Product.
